

John L. Burns, Jr., M.D.

PLASTIC SURGERY

Dr. John L. Burns, Jr., is board certified by the American Board of Plastic Surgery and is president of the Dallas Plastic Surgery Institute (DPSI), one of the largest and most prestigious plastic surgery group practices in the United States. Dr. Burns is also the medical director for DPSI's affiliated EpiCentre Skin Care and Laser Center, North Texas' premier medical spa.

Dr. Burns dedicates his practice to aesthetic plastic surgery. He is a graduate of Highland Park High School and Vanderbilt University. Dr. Burns graduated summa cum laude from the research honors program at Vanderbilt University and the University of Texas Medical Branch and completed his plastic surgery training in the integrated program at UTMB. He also pursued additional expertise in aesthetic surgery in Florida, microvascular surgery at the MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, and fellowship training in laser surgery at UT Southwestern Medical Center. Dr. Burns maintains an active interest in academic plastic surgery through teaching and research endeavors with DPSI's cosmetic surgery fellowship program, where plastic surgeons come from around the nation for additional training in aesthetic surgery. Dr. Burns has been recognized by Newsweek magazine as one of the nation's leading plastic surgeons in the categories of facelift, rhinoplasty, and breast augmentation.

Dr. Burns is nationally known for his expertise in laser surgery, cosmetic breast and body surgery, fat transfer, and facial rejuvenation, including the use of neuromodulators and soft-tissue fillers. He operates at the Dallas Day Surgery Center, DPSI's on-site AAAASF-approved plastic surgery specific surgical center. Patients can also stay overnight at the on-site cloister recovery center with round-the-clock nursing care. The EpiCentre Skin Care and Laser Center rounds out DPSI's full-service boutique.

Dr. Burns is married to Ann Burns. They have three wonderful children, Jack (19), David (17), and Lucy (14). Dr. Burns is a member of the Park Cities Presbyterian Church. He is also an elite masters marathon runner and competes annually in the New York City Marathon and the Boston Marathon, with a personal best time of 2:45. Dr. Burns offers both in-person consults at DPSI as well as virtual consults through his website, drjohnburns.com
