

Aubrey Meachum Connatser

FAMILY LAW

Aubrey Connatser is committed to results-oriented problem solving in all matters of family law. Divorce, child custody, complex property settlements, premarital agreements, modifications, and collaborative law—she is a sought-after expert who is as gifted at settling cases as she is trying them in court. Connatser always knew she wanted to be a lawyer but didn't want to sit behind a desk all day reading contracts. She was determined to make an impact in her clients' lives, so she chose to specialize in family law from day one.

"I always wanted a helper lawyer job," she says. "I felt I could make better use of my skills helping real people who are going through real stuff. For over half of my career, I have had children, and that has really changed how I practice family law. I can understand the sensitivities and raw emotion parents feel in a divorce. I have a lot of respect and empathy for the parents out there who are navigating divorce and all that comes with it for their children."

Connatser works with a team of experienced family lawyers who understand that divorce looks different for each family. With nearly a century of collective experience, the attorneys at Connatser Family Law offer sage counsel and provide proactive planning based on each client's individual needs and goals for their family. They are empathetic to their clients who find themselves in difficult situations, and they take an insightful approach to address the here and now—as well as the future. "We have a lot of depth and breadth on our team," Connatser says.

Connatser regularly prepares pre-nups and post-nups and finds creative solutions to help her clients achieve their goals. She artfully advocates in both jury and non-jury cases involving complex property and custody issues, though she frequently uses her training in and practices collaborative law. "Everyone wants a lawyer who can go to the courthouse and do what needs to be done to further their case effectively and persuasively," Connatser says. "However, I always pledge to work as hard to settle cases for clients as I do to litigate them. Most litigants in a divorce are better off resolving their issues on terms they can both live with so that they have a sense of certainty in the outcome."

Connatser Family Law, celebrating its 10th anniversary this summer, is a Tier 1 divorce firm. With a new location in Uptown Dallas, the firm continues to receive awards and recognition for its impressive results. Connatser, Board Certified in Family Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization, has been named among The Best Lawyers in America (Woodward White), Best Lawyers in Dallas in D Magazine, Top 100 Attorneys in Texas, Top 50 Women Attorneys in Texas, and Super Lawyers (Thomson Reuters).
