

Jeri Beth Foshee, M.D.

DERMATOLOGY

Dr. Jeri Beth “JB” Foshee is a board-certified dermatologist who specializes in medical and cosmetic dermatology treatments. She joined Dermatology Center of Dallas in 2009 and has enjoyed treating the families of North Dallas for the last 13 years. She is honored to be selected the past six years to D Magazine’s Best Doctors in Dallas list.

Outside of her medical practice, Dr. Foshee serves as a physician at CitySquare Community Clinic, a volunteer organization that provides free healthcare for underserved individuals in Dallas. She is an active member at her church, Highland Park United Methodist, where she sits on the outreach board. Dr. Foshee went to the University of Oklahoma for both undergraduate and medical school. Though a devoted Sooner, she still welcomes all Longhorns into her practice—with the exception of the week of OU/TX.
