

LISA MEANS

Ameen Habash, M.D.

PLASTIC SURGERY

Dr. Ameen Habash is fortunate to experience the best of both worlds at his in-demand Southlake plastic surgery practice—boosting patients' self-esteem through cosmetic surgical procedures as well as helping them regain the sense of being whole again after breast cancer reconstruction.

Although based in Southlake, his practice spans much of the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Dr. Habash has privileges at many prestigious hospitals in Dallas, Fort Worth, Irving, Arlington, and Southlake/Grapevine. His practice orchestrates a symphony of artistry and empathy through a boutique-style haven, building genuine connections with his patients.

Adversity sculpted Dr. Habash's unyielding dedication when a car accident in his youth propelled him toward plastic and reconstructive surgery. Today, his practice continues to provide a combination of cosmetic and reconstructive procedures. "Whatever the reason patients come to see me, I know that this is an important step for them, so I am dedicated to spending time with them and working together to understand their concerns and ultimately establishing a plan that fits their needs," he says.

Breast reconstruction for patients after a cancer diagnosis is a passion for Dr. Habash. He's not just performing a procedure; he is walking side by side with his patients and hand in hand, toward renewal. "Breast reconstruction is a testament to the strength of the human spirit," he says.

Board certified in plastic surgery by the American Board of Plastic Surgeons and a member of the American Society of Plastic Surgeons, Dr. Habash is often referred by patients and fellow physicians for his outstanding results in breast, body, and face procedures.

Safety and innovation form the backbone of his practice, he carefully designed his private plastic surgery practice to keep the patients' need at the forefront in all decisions. Communication, compassion, and connection form Dr. Habash's foundation. From the first consultation's words to the final steps of recovery, his team crafts an experience leaving no stone unturned. Comfort reigns supreme, with decisions driven by the relentless pursuit of optimal outcomes.

EDUCATION

B.S., Ohio State University
M.D., University of Cincinnati
Residency, University of Kentucky

1100 East Southlake Boulevard, Suite 250
Southlake, Texas 76092
817.484.0222

drhabash.com